Their Entirety

DENVER, Nov. 13.—After an a day session, during which both sides of the coal mine strike were presented to the editors of practically all of the larger newspapers in Colorado, the newspaper men, with the exception of three, tonight adopted a resolution declaring that the present strike should be called off immediately, and that the union should give up its demand for the 10-cent hour.

the demand for recognition of the operators' right that the union should abandon its claim for better wages, and that the operators should guarantee the miners the unprecedented rights to join the union, trade at any store, have their wages checked weighmen, limit their labors to eight hours a day and to the enforcement of all laws relating to the coal mining industry in this state. The resolutions as presented were unanimously subscribed to, however, by Clarence P. Dodge of the Colorado Springs Gazette; C. H. Newell of the Denver Express and George Hosmer of the Port Morgan Herald, each of whom pointed out emphatically that he could not accept some of the propositions contained in the resolutions.

In the resolutions which were adopted by the newspaper men, with the exceptions above mentioned, Gov. Ammons is commended for his action in sending troops to the strike zone and is requested to recruit the militia to the strength necessary to preserve order and peace in the state. BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

TRY GRANDMOTHER'S OLD FAMOUS RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to take it at home, which is messy and doubtful. Now, by asking at any drug store for "Wynette's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes luxuriantly dark, thick and glossy.

"LAND OF NOD." MANITOU COTTAGE BURNS TO GROUND

Walking a short distance from her home in Manitou yesterday morning, Mrs. Mary Goddard returned a few moments later to find the cottage in flames. The building, which was of the bungalow type, was practically destroyed. The "Land of Nod," as the cottage was known, was built several months ago, and stood a short distance from the Cliff Dwellers Hotel, Manitou. Mrs. Goddard had started a fire in the kitchen range and went to a neighboring house on an errand, and it is supposed that the cottage was set ablaze by an overheated chimney.

MANTELL SUPERB IN HIS PRESENTATION OF HAMLET

Audience Also Charmed With "Merchant of Venice" Given at Afternoon Performance

By JAMES W. PARK.

With a superb presentation of "Hamlet" at the Grand Opera house last night, Mr. Mantell brought his engagement in this city to a successful close. Each performance has been a triumph for the artist. From the rise of the curtain to its fall, three hours later, a capacity audience sat spellbound by the matchless beauty of Shakespeare's lines and by the wonderful rendering.

In this play Mr. Mantell was at his best. Some of us had heard that his Hamlet was inferior to his Shylock and Lear, and we went to the play expecting, perhaps, to be somewhat disappointed—but in a most gratifying sense, for we found that in his interpretation of this most complex of Shakespearean characters Mr. Mantell surpassed even himself.

While the lion's share of praise must go to Mr. Mantell, too much credit cannot be given to the cast which the great actor has surrounded himself. There is not a weak member in it, a marked tribute to Mantell's ability to select actors of real power and genius. This is as much to his credit as is his own great histrionic ability.

Powers Mellow With Years.

It is idle to speak of Mr. Mantell's skill as an artist. His fame is nationwide and increases with each succeeding year. His powers have mellowed with age, though he appears as youthful and virile as he was 20 years ago. But with advancing years there has come to him a keen, deep knowledge of life, and this is reflected in every character he portrays. Macbeth, Shylock, Hamlet—how grand they have been under the spell of Mantell's genius, and how truly they have revealed life!

To speak of all of the supporting cast without mentioning each individual is a difficult task. Still, the work of one member stands out most prominently. Miss Hamper's Ophelia was one, long to be remembered. In appearance, voice and in interpretation she did full justice to her part. Juliet Marlowe need not have been ashamed of the acting done by this young, and, as yet, little known, Ophelia.

Very effective acting was done by Mr. Peters as Polonius, and Mr. Lewers as the grave digger. Fritz Lieber made an excellent Laertes, though this part scarcely offers sufficient opportunity for his splendid powers. Why doesn't he attempt Hamlet, one of the really great characters in the play? This part was well taken by Mr. Lindley, as was that of the king by Mr. Burke. Mr. Gibbs, as the ghost, gave a splendid interpretation to that difficult part, and Miss Reynolds, as Queen Gertrude, spoke her lines sympathetically and effectively. The stage setting was somewhat better than that of "Macbeth," and the action throughout was finished and spirited. Judged as a whole, the playing was nearly flawless.

"Shylock" Charmed at Matinee.

"Shylock," one of the most hated and at the same time most pitied of all Shakespearean characters, brought out the best of Mr. Mantell's art when he appeared in "The Merchant of Venice" Sunday afternoon. He was a magnificent Seldou, has any Shakespearean actor presented the now famous Jewish character to better advantage; few have equaled the work of Mr. Mantell.

"The Merchant of Venice" was the only comedy presented here by Mr. Mantell, but in it he scored almost as great a triumph as in "Macbeth" and "Hamlet." Until his defeat in the intensely thrilling court scene to claim the forfeited bond of the merchant Antonio, one found of human flesh—"Shylock" perhaps is the most hated figure ever presented on any stage. But his failure in this tremendous effort—the degree that he must lose practically all of his worldly possessions and, above all, accept the Christian faith—completely breaks the spirit of the old

RUB OIL ON SORE, I AM BACK STOPS BACKACHE AT ONCE

Rub Backache away with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil"

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 80 years. ADV.

Supporting Cast Strong.

In "The Merchant of Venice," Mr. Mantell was ably supported, the entire cast seemingly in perfect accord with the Shakespearean star. Fritz Lieber as "Bassanio" won much praise and his characterization of the author of Portia was very good. Miss Thair Lawton as Portia also appeared to good advantage, although her work was not up to the standard of her presentation of Lady Macbeth Wednesday night.

John Burke as Antonio, the merchant, and Guy Lindsey as Gratiano, friend of Bassanio, both displayed much art in their interpretation of the characters. Edward Lewers, playing Lancelot Gobbo, furnished sufficient comedy to break the more intense scenes.

be selected from among the miners by the miners to be paid by them, and without interference upon the part of the operators.

"Sixth demand, the right to trade at any store.

"Seventh demand, the demand for the enforcement of all laws relating to the coal mining industry."

Should Take Men Back.

Also, that any competent striking miners, who have not been guilty of violation of the laws while on strike, should be taken back by the coal mine owners without prejudice.

Also, that any coal mine owner has the legal right to employ any person, or persons, without interference or threats upon the part of any other person or organization, as provided by law.

"Also, that we declare it to be the duty of the governor of this state to compel the enforcement of the state mining laws, to which we pledge our earnest support and cooperation; and that, to obtain for the miners every right to which they are entitled under the law, the rigid enforcement of the state laws is alone necessary."

Command Governor Ammons.

"We commend Governor Ammons for sending troops into one disturbed district of the state and express our full confidence in the integrity of his purposes respecting the unfortunate industrial strife that exists there. However, we believe that troops should be adequate in number to become sole protectors of life and property in sections of the state where such strife exists or is threatened, and that the National guard should be recruited to meet conditions as they may arise. That it is our opinion that until such time as the National guard may safely be withdrawn from the affected districts and law and order restored, that all offenses and violations of law pertaining to the strike should be immediately tried before military courts.

"We further request the governor to take such action as will prevent the importation of firearms into this state by any individual or any organization, because we believe that no one has the right to bear arms here except those legally authorized to do so under the laws of the state of Colorado."

Kenehan On Way Back.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 13.—Roady Kenehan, state auditor of Colorado, a delegate of the International Horse-shoers' union to the American Federation of Labor convention, has been called to Denver on account of a controversy over payment of the militia in the coal strike district. Kenehan declares he will not issue certificates to pay the guardsmen until the court of last resort decrees it.

"I have no right to issue certificates bearing interest in order to pay the militia for its services in putting down a strike," Kenehan said. "If the state of Colorado wants the militia paid, let the legislature make an appropriation."

Stevens' Opinion.

DENVER, Nov. 13.—City Attorney I. N. Stephens late today notified the city commissioners that they would be acting entirely within their rights if they proceeded to buy coal by the railroad and retail it, or buy or lease mine property and market the product, provided the city sold at a constant loss. The city attorney's opinion was given at the request of the city commissioners who wished to know if they could do something to alleviate the increasing cost of coal. The commissioners tomorrow will consider further action in the matter.

Steps Sale Of Fire Arms.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Nov. 13.—General Chase issued an order this afternoon prohibiting the sale of firearms within the entire strike district and dispatching military messengers to convey the word to the coal camp districts. The order also sets forth that no firearms shall be imported and no firearms that have been shipped shall be delivered by express companies without a special order from his. General Chase left this afternoon quite hurriedly for Morley in response to an appeal that trouble was likely to occur. He has also ordered a large patrolling force to proceed at once to that camp.

Both Sides Heard.

Editors from all parts of Colorado met to hear the facts presented by the parties directly and indirectly concerned. The meeting was arranged by John C. Shaffer, editor of the Rocky Mountain News and Denver Times, who was made chairman.

Outlining the object of the meeting, Mr. Shaffer stated that men who had worked in the mines, operators and state officials would be given a full and impartial hearing.

Governor Ammons briefly outlined facts that have come to his attention prior to and since the strike was called. He reviewed briefly his endeavors to bring together the opponents in the controversy, explaining that on each attempt the stumbling block was "recognition of the union."

"Convinced that the civil authorities were unable to prevent disorder and bloodshed in the strike zone," the governor stated, he ordered the National guard to the coal camps to restore and maintain order without favor to either side.

Governor Reviews Situation.

The governor pointed out that there is no state law under which he can compel arbitration and expressed the hope that some way might be found to arrange a truce or temporary arrangement that would end the present strike, until the people of Colorado shall have an opportunity to pass upon an initiated law giving the governor authority to enforce arbitration.

Three miners, Ford Cornwell, Thomas Dennison and A. Demond, who have worked in the southern Colorado coal camps, described conditions under which they worked. Among the complaints specified by them were those contained in the union demands at the time the strike was called. These included a bi-monthly pay day, pay for all dead work, the right to purchase supplies where they pleased, a wage increase and the demand for recognition of the union.

John C. Osgood, vice president of the Victor-American Fuel company, opened the presentation of the operators' position. He reviewed former strikes in Colorado and the happenings immediately prior to the calling of the present strike. He stated, in effect, all the demands asked by the United Mine Workers of America of the firms were in force at the time the strike was called, with the exception of the recognition of the union. These, he said, included an 8-hour day for underground men, a bi-monthly pay day, the right to board and purchase supplies wherever the men desired.

He reviewed the operators' reasons for declining to recognize the union or sign an agreement with its officials. He declared that probably 2,500 men had left the coal camps and the state prior to calling the strike to avoid the controversy, that as many more were now working underground, while approximately a similar number now was on strike.

He was prepared to take up the conduct of affairs since the strike was called when the conference adjourned at 1:30 to 2 o'clock this afternoon.

McLennon Tells Story.

Practically all the afternoon session of the editorial meeting was taken up by Mr. McLennon's narration of events of violence which have occurred since the strike was called.

At the close of the afternoon session, John C. Shaffer, editor of the Rocky Mountain News, was asked to tell the union's side of the controversy. Mr. McLennon dwelt upon the demands of the union which are being made upon the operators, and attempted to justify the union's position.

At the close of Mr. McLennon's talk, the editors went into executive session to consider a vote on resolutions which would voice the sentiments and opinions of the majority present. A committee consisting of John C. Shaffer of the Rocky Mountain News and Denver Times, L. C. Padgett, Boulder American, and Frank S. Hoag, Pueblo Star-Journal

A GOOD TONIC FOR HOGS

KNOW THE MICHAMMA FARMER

There is a good tonic to feed your hogs. It is recommended by the Government Veterinarian.

Wood charcoal one pound, sulphur one pound, common salt two pounds, bicarbonate of soda two pounds, sodium hypophosphite two pounds, sodium sulphate one pound, antimony sulphide one pound. This should be thoroughly mixed and pulverized and fed in a thin slush at the rate of one tablespoonful for each 200-pound hog once a day. This is a good tonic but not a preventive or a cure for cholera.

More than 50,000 bottles are employed in Staffordshire, England.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

WAYS BACKACHE IS SIGN YOU HAVE BEEN EATING TOO MUCH MEAT

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and logan. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's uric waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scale and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with alkali, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular uric eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent alkali-water drink. Adv.

CHIHUAHUA DESIGNED BY REBELS; STARVATION TACTICS ARE ADOPTED

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 13.—General Francisco Villa's rebel troops today began a drive on Chihuahua. They cut the railroad and telegraph lines connecting Chihuahua with the border and have the city completely isolated. Rebel junta members stated tonight that it is Villa's plan to starve Chihuahua, not instead of again trying to take the town by assault.

A passenger and troop train passed the point where the line was cut a few hours before the arrival of the rebel force at the north of Chihuahua. The train reached Juarez this evening bringing hundreds of Americans, foreigners and native refugees. The Twenty-third battalion of federal infantry accompanied the train as a guard.

Owes His Life to This Lung Remedy

If you neglect a continued cough or cold, you are in constant danger of contracting serious Lung Trouble. The cough or cold which does not yield to ordinary treatment should be a warning to you and preventive measures should be taken as soon as possible. In many cases Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for Cough and Lung Trouble, has brought permanent recovery. Read this:

Catherine Ave. and Asot Place, Queens Court L. I. N. Y.

Gentlemen:—In the year 1908 I was taken with a heavy cold and a most short cough. I went to several doctors who gave me a lot of medicine. Finally I went to a specialist, who gave me creosote that made me sick of all kinds of food, consequently I failed in health. I then went to the Catskills and seemed to get better but the cough still kept up. I stayed there for one year and then went to a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man. About the time of my return my brother recommended Eckman's Alternative to me very highly. If I am now nearly two years since I first took it. I am now well and I dare say that I would have been buried long ago if it had not been for Eckman's Alternative.

EUROPE IS NOW SUPPORTING

by Charge O'Shaughnessy and John Lind but within a few hours such favorable action had been received as to cause the president to withhold the document from publication. He struck it away in a drawer with many other summaries of international affairs which it has been found necessary to make public.

There are elements in this case, said the president, "which I cannot discuss at present, but which make it look to me very much more favorable."

The president spoke thus of the situation to a half hundred Washington correspondents at their semi-weekly conference. His manner was calm, and it was apparent that he felt decidedly encouraged by recent action. The president is not usually quoted after these conferences but today he permitted a question to the extent of the single sentence. This he did to allay any tension that might have arisen in this country over the situation described in the dispatches from Mexico City. Asked about the word "favorable," he explained that he meant favorable to a settlement.

Gives No Details.

The president gave no details to show upon what his optimism was based, but he made it clear that a primary condition of settlement was the ousting of Huerta and all those who stood for the kind of government he was conducting. It was evident that the president had received important dispatches, but he declined to say whether they were from Mexico City or Nogales, the Constitutional headquarters. Later, however, it was learned that from other high officials the plan of financial isolation was bearing fruit, and that the plan for Huerta's elimination was being acquiesced in by foreign governments, especially some of those which had previously recognized him, and upon whom he had come to rely for aid.

One of the important factors in the situation, which caused Washington calmly to await developments, was the report through authoritative channels that members of the Huerta official circle were divided, some of them urging his resignation to avoid international complications. They were reported to be using every effort to prevail upon him to make a formal announcement of retirement at a fixed date.

Drifting Into Bankruptcy.

The situation has progressed to the point in the view of many officials where even a definite rejection of the American demands by Huerta would not alter his future materially. Confidence prevails that he is drifting into certain bankruptcy and cannot resist much longer, the pressure exerted against him.

Another indication that is expected to contribute to Huerta's overthrow is the extension of moral support to the Constitutionalists. If pushed to the extremity, the American government will lift the embargo on arms to aid the Constitutionalists in coping with the situation but there is still a hopefulness among high officials that such a step will prove unnecessary.

The United States has offered no mediation to the Constitutionalists, but simply has endeavored to learn what protection would be promised to foreigners and their property and what would be the program of action of the Constitutionalists if they were successful by arms.

Constitutionalists Insincere.

The Washington government realizes that even should Huerta retire, a competent machinery of government would have to be substituted and that negotiations for an armistice and peace arrangements looking toward a fair and free election would have to be carefully worked out. The United States purpose to help in any way it can affording a medium of communication between Nogales and Mexico City, it desired and otherwise contributing toward a peaceful solution.

For this reason the progress of William Bayard Hale's conferences with General Carranza are regarded as an important phase of the American peace program.

There is a feeling among administration officials that if the Constitutionalists were as sincere as they have been represented in their desire for the restoration of constitutional government little difficulty would be encountered in selecting a man acceptable to both sides for the president of a interim, with further arrangements for an election to be made. To the foreign nations which have made inquiry as to what might follow if Huerta did relinquish power, the Washington government has in general indicated this line of action.

Col. Goethals "In Good" With the Administration

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, is not to retire, as has been reported recently. On the contrary, he is on terms of the closest friendship with President Wilson, Secretary Garrison and the Washington administration. This was made plain today by President Wilson himself.

The president had expected to visit the canal some last summer before the water was let into the ditch, but legislative developments in Washington prevented. He let it be known today that he saw no particular occasion for a visit now until January, 1915, when the ceremony of opening the canal is planned.

W. E. Astoun, author of "Lays of Scotland's Cavalier" had a peculiar experience in winning his wife. He declared his love to the daughter of Professor Wilson (Christopher North) and she returned it. But Astoun could not face the famous litterateur to ask his consent, so the girl herself undertook the ordeal of asking papa. Professor Wilson listened to her statement and writing on a slip of paper Christopher North pinned it on the back of his daughter's dress, saying "I must break it gently to him." She returned to her lover "Papa's answer is on the back of my dress," and the lover read "With the author's compliments."

CARRANZA REFUSES MEDIATION BY U. S.

Will Not Enter Into Negotiations With Huerta, He Says; Only Wants Arms

SONORA, Mexico, Nov. 13.—Interest was focused upon official Washington tonight by the actors in the exchanges between President Wilson and General Carranza, through William Bayard Hale. It was considered probable that the next step would come either in the form of an announcement from the American capital or a resumption of the negotiations in Nogales between Mr. Hale and the Constitutional chief.

Carranza, the officers of his staff and the members of his provisional cabinet went about their routine of time between his hotel, on the American side, and the American consulate, chatting with Consul Frederick Simpich and callers.

General Carranza referred to the Mexican situation only once today. "I will not enter into transactions with the Huerta government directly or indirectly," he said; "nor will I accept the mediation of any body."

Twenty-one Towns Captured.

The military leaders here were cheered tonight by what they considered significant news from the south. General Pablo Gonzales, Constitutional commander in the states of Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas, reported to General Carranza that his troops had taken 21 towns, routed the federalists in two decisive battles and captured two military trains with large supplies of munitions. General Gonzales said that at present his forces were marching against Victoria, capital of Tamaulipas.

Col. Gustavo Garmendia, who was a prominent actor at the time of the Mexico City rising against Madero, was killed in leading his insurgent command against Cuicatlan, according to a report generally credited here.

Gen. Alvaro Obregon, former commander of Sonora state troops, was reported wounded slightly.

Rosales Joins Carranza.

Ramon M. Rosales, who was elected governor of Hidalgo under the Madero government, arrived tonight and announced that he had come to join General Carranza. He has been a fugitive in Cuba and the United States since the overthrow of the Madero government. General Rosales said the revolutionary movement was gaining a strong foothold in his state, as he asserted it was in all parts of Mexico.

all sources for these states during the first three months of the current fiscal year is approximately $14,000 in excess of that for the same period last year. According to forestry officials this increase is due almost entirely to the increased activity in the manufacture of lumber within the national forest regions.

The average expenditure for the protection and administration of the national forests in Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota for the present fiscal year will, it is said, amount to approximately two cents per acre. On the basis of receipts for the first quarter of the current year, it is estimated that the total receipts from the forests in these states this year will be approximately one and one-half cents per acre in their administration.

PERJURY CASE IS UNDER WAY IN DISTRICT COURT

C. E. Dale on Trial Charged With Giving False Testimony in Action Against Goldschmidt

C. E. Dale was yesterday placed on trial in the district court on a charge of perjury in being alleged that he gave false testimony in the county court in the case of G. M. Boyles against Herman Goldschmidt. The case promises to be one of the most interesting legal battles in the history of the local district court.

A jury was impaneled shortly after noon yesterday, and the taking of evidence began. In his opening statement to the jury, the district attorney said that the state expected to prove that in the county court G. M. Boyles swore that he sold to G. M. Boyles last November, before maturity, a note given by Herman Goldschmidt, when Boyles knew that the note was not transferred until February 11, as alleged that the transfer date was a material issue in the case in the county court.

Law Has Created a 'Loan Shark Trust,' Attorneys Declare

Several local attorneys are contending that the new state law against usury has in reality created a "loan shark trust," and this opinion is substantiated by statements from several men who have in the past been doing more or less private loan business. A Colorado Springs attorney yesterday explained the situation as follows: "Under the new law a loan shark who has promissory notes or other securities to the amount of $10,000 can organize a bank and get a charter from the state. With an office in some back room he can then do business and is entitled to 6 per cent a month interest. The private loan man cannot do business under any consideration. This gives a monopoly to the so-called 'banks' and they are charging not less than 5 per cent a month and doing business under the protection of the law. While the intent of the law was right the men who passed it failed to see the joker in it and innocently played into the hands of the loan shark trust."

A HAPPY CHILD IN A FEW HOURS

When cross, constipated, feverish, give "California Syrup of Figs"

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours the clogged up bowels move out of the bowels, and you have a well playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious, fruit laxative. Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what age your little one is, if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. Adv.

MINING EXPERT EXAMINES DISTRICT AT GLEN EYRIE

W. B. Jenkins, Early Day Operator, Impressed With Showing Made on Palmer Land

W. B. Jenkins, one of the oldest mining men in the state and one of the first to make a shipment of pay ore from the Cripple Creek district, has been making an investigation of the new mining district north of Glen Eyrie. Jenkins is of the opinion that the mineral uncovered thus far is a big blow out and that the real veins will have to be sought under the sandstone formation. A grab sample from the workings now in operation returned 12 per cent copper and a trace of gold and silver, which Jenkins declares is unusually promising. Those working the property at present have not reached sufficient depth to do the camp justice. Jenkins believes that in the near future the district will make a big showing and that more people will operate there.

Springs Youth Held on Forgery Charge

Joe McGinnis, formerly of Colorado Springs, has been arrested in Los Angeles on a charge of passing a worthless check. Chief of Police Burbo yesterday telegraphed to the Los Angeles police that McGinnis was not wanted there on a serious charge, he might be prosecuted here on several counts. McGinnis is alleged to have passed two worthless checks here recently, for about $10 each, on the Dickinson Hardware company and the Peoples pharmacy. A telegram received here yesterday stated that McGinnis would be prosecuted in Los Angeles. McGinnis was paroled from the state prison at Canon City about a month ago.

Cost of Meters Is Being Investigated

J. A. Foley, traveling representative of the Pittsburgh Meter company, met with Mayor McKesson, water commissioner McReynolds and Health Commissioner Ford yesterday afternoon in discussion of a water meter manufactured by the Pittsburgh company. While the city officials are not considering installing water meters throughout the city in the near future, it is believed that the water used by Colorado Springs people will be sold by the gallon before many months.

Nut Cake

3 cups Delicious

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

In giving this recipe, Mrs. Hill believes it to be one of the best all-around cake recipes it has been her good fortune to make. The simplicity and uniformly good results will appeal to every housewife.

RECIPES

One-half cup butter; 1 1/4 cups granulated sugar; 1/2 cup milk; 2 cups flour; 2 level teaspoonsful K. C. Baking Powder; 1 cup of nut meats chopped fine; whites of 4 eggs, beaten dry.

Sift flour and baking powder together, three times. Cream the butter, add sugar; then add milk; the milk and the flour mixture; lastly the whites of eggs and the nut meats. Bake in a sheet in a shallow pan thirty or forty minutes. When cold cover with the icing and decorate with whole nut meats. This is also an excellent white cake recipe when made with white sugar.

Chocolate Icing

One cup granulated sugar; 1/2 ounce chocolate, white of 2 eggs, beaten dry; 1/2 teaspoonful vanilla extract; 1/4 cup water.

Stir the sugar, chocolate and water until the mixture boils; cover and let boil three minutes. Uncover and let boil till when tested in cold water a soft ball may be formed; beat until the whites of egg, then beat until cold, add vanilla. The nut caramel frosting given on page forty of the C. C. B. Alternates, the milk and the chocolate frosting if desired. A copy of the Cook's Book, handsomely illustrated in 9 colors, will be mailed free, if you will send the colored certificate packed in 2 cents of C. C. B. Baking Powder to the Jacobs Bros. Co., Chicago.

SALE OF MAGGIE MINE TO CRESSON RUMORED

Transaction, It Completed Regarded as One of Biggest in Years on Cripple Creek

The Cresson Consolidated Gold Mining company, according to reports yesterday, has purchased the Maggie Gold Mining company, the Maggie mine, on Raven hill, and the Maggie, Tum Tum and St. Eagle claims surrounding it, making one of the largest Cripple Creek transactions in the last few years. The details of the transaction have not been made public, but it is known that the property is very valuable and has been producing high-grade ore.

The Maggie Gold Mining company is incorporated for 130,000 shares, 225,000 of which are held in the treasury. Shares have a par value of $1. The company was incorporated in 1899. The mine is under lease to Earl Johnson, a successful operator who sunk the main shaft on Raven hill near the Cresson company's shaft. From the royalties paid the company by Johnson, dividends were paid last year. The company is a close corporation, and the stock has never been placed on the market.

A meeting of the company's stockholders is to be held soon to determine the disposition of the sum paid by the Cresson company, and also upon the dissolution or continuance of the company's corporate existence. W. W. Williamson of this city is secretary of the company.

The Cresson Consolidated Gold Mining and Milling company is a close corporation, and is controlled by Chicago and Detroit capitalists.

Rock Island Policy May Be Announced by T. M. Schumacher

T. M. Schumacher, newly elected chairman of the directorate and of the executive committee of the Rock Island will arrive in Colorado Springs Sunday, accompanied by a party of officials, including President H. L. Mudge.

He is making a tour of inspection of the system, and while here may make important announcements relative to improvements and the probable extension of a branch line in Colorado.

In the party with Schumacher are Arthur James Cuthbert of Phelps, Dodge and company, bankers for the Rock Island; J. E. Gorman, first vice president in charge of freight traffic; A. C. Ridgeway, vice president in charge of operation, and E. L. Mudge. The tour will occupy six weeks, and will include the El Paso and Southwestern, of which Schumacher is vice president. The party will pass Sunday afternoon and part of Monday here.

There is considerable speculation among Colorado officials of the road as to what action will be taken with respect to an extension from the main line over the old Denver and Rio Grande. At present the Rock Island's main line runs to Colorado Springs and the company uses the Union Pacific tracks between Limon and Denver.

The road it is understood, has two surveys completed. It is believed with the election of Schumacher improvements will be made all over the system.

PAWNBROKER WILL TRY TO IDENTIFY SUSPECT

Whether Harry Hillen the Denver bandit, will be connected with the murder last July of Albert Whitehead, watchman at the Cliff house in Manitou, depends upon the identification by a Colorado Springs pawnbroker as the man who bought a revolver from him July 7, five days before the murder. The pawnbroker will go to Denver today to see Hillen.

The local police shortly after the crime, learned that a revolver had been bought at a pawnshop prior to the murder and every effort was made to find a man answering the description of the purchaser, furnished by the broker. Hillen, who was supposed to have worked at the Cliff house under the alias of Nelson, was identified by F. F. Nichols, proprietor of the place.

Hillen was questioned about the Manitou crime but denied any connection with it or of having been in the Pikea Peak region at the time. Chief Nesbitt of Denver believes that Hillen had some connection with the Cliff house shooting.

'CHURCH COWARDS' THEME OF DR. PRATT'S SERMON

Evangelist Gives Striking Talk Before Packed Auditorium at First Presbyterian Church

"The men who win in this world are the men the world cannot win." "Power, God power, makes us courageous, love is invincible." "In this meeting we scorn the help of any who are not clean in heart and life."

Evangelist Benajah Pratt brought out the above poignant facts in his sermon last night before a packed auditorium in the First Presbyterian church. Dr. Pratt was at his best, and held the vast congregation spellbound with the truths he hurled like broadsides from a mighty battleship. His general theme was "Church Cowards." His text was from Judges VII, 3. "He that is powerful and afraid let him return." After relating in an enthusiastic manner the history of Gideon and his men the 300 earnest warriors who were not afraid he drew a wealth of intensely practical teachings which made the sermon one of the best, if not the best, of his sermons thus far. He said in part:

The secret of success lay in the fact that the small band of Gideon's men were united; they had one purpose, they were of one spirit, they stood every man in his place. We need just such a band of loyal men and women in this city. A coward is one who follows the crowd; but when he is brave with the conflict they are not to be found in their places. "There are church cowards. The pastors of churches and evangelists are no many times cowards. They are afraid to preach the truth, they are trying to hold their jobs rather than hold on to God."

There are some laymen who are cowards. When a great warfare for civic righteousness is on, they hunt for some cover and like the Arabs, fold their tents and silently steal away.

Where Churches Must Stand.

"There are some churches that are cowards. They allow men who are unclean in heart and life, men who swear, drink, gamble, to remain on church boards and call themselves members when, if the church were not cowardly it would say to them: 'Get right with God clean up your dirty life or get out.' Let the churches of Christ stand for righteousness first, last and all the time. Then things will be better religiously in any and all communities."

Dr. Pratt closed with a most earnest plea for men and women to be as Gideon's men united for Christ, courageous for God and earnestly enthusiastic for the salvation of man. During the service Mrs. Booth sang "The Name of Jesus."

Tonight the meeting will begin at 7:15 o'clock and close at 8:30. So that those who cannot attend the Y. M. C. A. Star course may attend the concert at The Burns theater.

JAPAN WILL SEND ARMORED CRUISER TO MEXICAN WATERS

TOKIO, Nov. 13.—The Japanese government decided today to send the armored cruiser Furutaka to Mexican waters for the protection of Japanese subjects in Mexico.

Officials of the Japanese foreign office declare that the dispatch of the Furutaka to Mexico was merely a precautionary measure in case the situation there becomes critical. The following statement was made public: "The Japanese government is sincerely desirous that the situation in Mexico should improve and that natives and foreigners in the country should be safe but judged from reports the lives and property of Japanese residents there cannot be said to be secure."

Already some of the powers have dispatched warships to Mexican waters and one nation is negotiating with another for the purpose of intensifying its claim to the Gulf of Mexico. The Japanese in Mexico cannot do so much as the other powers, and therefore has decided to dispatch the Furutaka. "The mission of the Furutaka is to protect Japanese subjects in Mexico and to maintain the peace in the Gulf of Mexico."

QUICKLY STOPS
WORST BACKACHE

Makes Kidney, Bladder Disorders and Rheumatic Pains
Vanish

If you suffer with backaching kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders, or are tortured with rheumatism, stiff joints and heart-wrenching pains, you will be surprised how quickly and surely Croxone will relieve all such ills.

It works right in through the walls, membranes and linings, cleans out and strengthens the stopped up organs, neutralizes, dissolves and makes the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs, clean, strong, active and healthy.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have tried. It is practically impossible to take Croxone without results, for it starts to work the minute you take it.

If you suffer with pains in the back or sides, if you are nervous, tired and run down, bothered with urinary disorders, or have any signs of kidney, bladder troubles or rheumatism, don't spend another needless day suffering.

Secure an original package of Crox-one today, and prove for yourself right now, as thousands of others have done, just how quickly it will end your misery.

Croxone is inexpensive, and every druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

Baptist church will meet this afternoon at the church. The executive board will meet at 2 o'clock. The missionary meeting will be held at 3 o'clock, when "Echoes of the Pueblo Convention" will be given by Mrs.
Turnbull and Mrs. Mayhew and the regular monthly business meeting will be held at 4 o'clock.

The K and L. O. S. will hold a regular meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in M. W. A. hall. The district manager, Mrs. J. F. Jewett, and her assistant, J. C. Newton, will be present.
There is a large class to initiate.
Members are urged to attend as business of importance will be transacted.
Refreshments will be served.

Section four of the First Christian church will meet with Miss Lucas, 417
East San Rafael street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

LABOR CONVENTION
HOLDS ONE SESSION

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 13 There was one brief session of the American Federation of Labor today, and the delegates spent the afternoon and night in committee meetings.
President Gompers received resolutions up to midnight. No resolutions offered later can be considered except by a vote of the convention. Men prominent in the federation say the big committee are not likely to report until next week and that little busi-

TIGERS OUTWEIGHED BY D. U. NO OVERCONFIDENCE AT C. C.

Locals Go to Denver This Afternoon to Get Good Rest; Ministers' Team Is Green but Anxious to Win

Following are the lineups and weights of the Tigers and the Ministers for the game at Union park in Denver tomorrow:

DENVER UNIVERSITY.	TIGERS
Herbert, lb. 165	Kramer, lb. 170
Donaldson, lb. 200	Ragle, lb. 165
Porter, lb. 165	Gerlach, lb. 170
Palmer, lb. 200	Mimmack, lb. 185
King, lb. 178	Koch, lb. 162
Bingham, lb. 180	Gibson, lb. 182
Wallack, lb. 160	Bowers, lb. 171
Deeds, lb. 165	Halt, lb. 172; Ross, 180; qb
Russell, lb. 162	Taylor, lb. 170
Miller, lb. 148	Claybaugh, lb. 170
Beal, lb. 160	Earnold, lb. 165; Cheese, 136; lb
Total team weight—Tigers, 1,884; Denver, 1,873.
Average team weight—Tigers, 165; Denver, 167.
Line average—Tigers, 166; Denver, 170.
Back field average—Tigers, 148; Denver, 166.

The Denver average is brought beyond normal by the weight of Donaldson and Palmer, both tipping the beam at 200 pounds.

The Tigers have learned to play football. They learned it in a last quarter of last Saturday's game against the Mines, and if they put into effect the teachings of experience in the game with Denver tomorrow, then something must be going. The locals will enter the game against the Ministers' out-fitted, due largely to the weight of Donaldson and Palmer, star Minister men, both of whom are 200-pound-

CONVICTS PLAY BALL FOR MAGNAIES; 10 MEET OMAHA NEXT

Demands of Players First to Be Heard at Special Meeting Today

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—Omaha, Neb., was selected as the next meeting place at the final session of the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues here today. Omaha won next year's convention in a close contest with Nashville, Tenn., receiving 17 of the 32 votes cast.

There was no discussion today of the demands submitted by the baseball players' fraternity, but the national board was instructed to be ready to appear at a conference with the national commission and representatives of the fraternity. No date for the conference has been set as yet. The report of the contract committee that it would be impossible to have uniform contracts for all leagues which are parties to the national agreement, was adopted by the convention.

The delegates visited the Ohio penitentiary today. Two teams of convicts played a baseball game behind walls for the entertainment of the visitors. After the game, a minstrel show was staged. At the conclusion of the performance a collection was taken for the benefit of the entertainers.

Reports of committees were heard and passed upon and resolutions in memory of William H. Locke, late president of the Philadelphia National league club, were adopted. One change made in the association's constitution allows class AA leagues to adopt special forms of contracts. This opens up a way for the contracts of the class AA teams to be made uniform by those of the major leagues.

Several changes in the association's rules governing the sale of players from class C and D leagues to minor leagues of higher classification were suggested but no definite action was taken as change in the national agreement is involved. The matter probably will be taken up when the national board and the national commission meet in conference.

The Columbus American association team released Osa Dodd, who came from the Texas league. He goes to the San Antonio club.

FAMOUS YALE SQUAD OF '88 CELEBRATES SILVER ANNIVERSARY

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 13.—The famous Yale football team of '88 celebrated its silver anniversary here last night with Capt. William H. Cobbin of that eleven, now state tax commissioner, but always "Pop" Cobbin to Yale men, as the host. Besides the team members the guests included Perry W. Harvey, who played in the Yale-Princeton game of 1888, Walter Camp, head coach of that team, Ray Tompkins, captain of the eleven of 1888, Robert N. Corwin, captain of the 1886 team, Harry Beecher, captain of the 1887 team, Harry L. Read, treasurer of the football association of 1887, and Gifford Finchot of the 1888 squad.

There are 5,187 steam laundries in the United States employing 109,484 persons.

The Tiger Line Which Clashes With the Denver Primary Defense Tomorrow

HERE ARE THE 17 FAMOUS SUGGESTIONS OF THE PLAYERS' FRATERNITY TO THE COMMISSION

Accompanying the petition of the Baseball Players' fraternity, embodying the 17 requests to the National Commission, was a separate communication with 17 suggestions, which the fraternity asks the National Commission and the National board to embody in their legislation. The communication containing the suggestion follows:

To the National Commission and the National Board.

Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, members of the Baseball Players' fraternity, being engaged in playing professional baseball as a means of livelihood under certain rules and regulations inaugurated by your bodies, do hereby request that the following suggestions be embodied in your legislation as part of all contracts entered into with our members:

First—When a player receives 10 days' notice of unconditional release he shall be free to sign with any team immediately the contract to run from the expiration of the 10-day period.

Second—National association players shall receive 10 days' notice before they can be released unconditionally.

Third—When a player is transferred he shall be transferred subject to all the terms of his contract.

Fourth—When a player is transferred he shall be furnished with a writing which shall be binding on all the parties concerned showing what team has a claim to him and what that claim is.

Fifth—When a player receives his unconditional release or when waivers are asked upon him he shall be notified in writing to that effect.

Sixth—At the time contracts are sent out every player shall receive a copy, to be kept by him for his own use.

Seventh—All written agreements, whether embodied in formal contract or not, shall be binding upon both the club and player.

Eighth—Every team shall furnish each player with two complete uniforms, exclusive of shoes.

Ninth—Every team shall pay the actual traveling expenses of its players from their homes to the training camps or so much thereof as does not exceed the expense from the league city to the training camp.

Tenth—If a regular contract is not tendered a probationary player before the expiration of the 45-day probation period he shall be a free agent.

Eleventh—If a player has been in the major leagues for any portion of the playing season of 10 different years, and if at any time after the beginning of the tenth year no team in such league desires his services, he shall receive his unconditional release, subject, however, to reservation by the club which signs him.

Twelfth—If a player has been in the major and the class "AA" leagues for any portion of his playing season of 12 different years, and if at any time after the beginning of the twelfth year no team in such league desires his services, he shall receive his unconditional release, subject, however, to reservation by the club which signs him.

Thirteenth—When a team asks for waivers on a player it shall not be permitted to withdraw requests.

Fourteenth—When a player is fined or suspended he shall be given notice in writing, stating the amount of the fine or the duration of the suspension and the reason therefor.

Fifteenth—No player shall be discriminated against on his position in organized baseball in any way affected because of his connection with the fraternity.

Sixteenth—Every park shall be equipped with a blank wall, painted dark green, placed back of center field in line with the pitcher's plate and home base, of sufficient size to afford a background for pitched balls.

Seventeenth—Before a player shall be released outright to a lower classification waivers shall be secured at the same price for all classifications, first from all teams in his classification and then from all teams, if any, between that classification and the one to which he goes, according to their priority in grade.

Before a drafted or purchased player shall be released under an optional agreement prior to the expiration of the season following his draft or purchase, waivers shall be secured from all teams in his classification at $1,500 if he is to be a major league player and $750 if he is to be an "AA" classification player. This paragraph is subject, however, to requests 11 and 12.

Waivers having been secured as set forth in either of the two foregoing paragraphs, a player may be released under an optional agreement at a price which shall be the same for all classifications by tendering him to the lower classifications according to their priority in grade.

Provided, however, that in all cases where waivers are to be secured from the "AA" classification they need be secured from only the International league and the American association.

More Hot Stove League Changes; Cobb to Boston Speaker to Yankee Club

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Boston is responsible for the latest sensational baseball story to the effect that negotiations are under way for a big 3-cornered deal involving the New York Americans, the Detroit and Red Sox, by which Tris Speaker will become a member of Chance's team and Ty Cobb will go to the Hub. In the absence of Manager Chance President Farrell of the New Yorks said today that he had no knowledge of the supposed deal. There is no doubt, however, that Farrell and Chance would agree to almost any proposition that would bring Speaker to this city. President Navin of the Detroit club stated recently that he might agree to trade Cobb for Speaker, but that no other transaction would appeal to him.

The two fastest football eleven that Rocky Mountain high schools have produced this season will clash on Westminster field tomorrow afternoon. The Colorado title is at stake in the game and the Terrors, under the tutelage of Dr. Frank Acker will give their opponents, the Boulder Preps, the hardest game of the year.

Last night, until the shadows deepened in Monument park, the Terrors smashed against the scrubs, unworking open play after open play, swinging shift after shift through the line and around the ends and finally running up and down the field after punts. Coach Acker has developed a shift that differs from any yet seen in Colorado. It needs a fast team and gives opportunity for many varied plays. The Terrors will go into the game outweighed about eight pounds to the man. But the locals have met the

WHY NOT INVESTIGATE?

THE GAZETTE several days ago presented figures from one of the oldest and most experienced coal operators in this field, tending to show that Colorado Springs need not pay more than $2.75 per ton for lignite coal, if the people should cut out the middleman by mining their own coal. The Gazette showed that, inasmuch as coal at these figures would mean a saving to the people of about $500,000 annually—considerably more than the city's taxes—the proposition for a city mine certainly ought to be investigated.

Thus far there has been no step towards such an investigation. The Chamber of Commerce has decided that such an investigation lies outside its province, and the city commissioners have also failed to take action. And yet the figures presented by Mr. Thomas have not been refuted in any way!

What's the matter with Colorado Springs? Are we so frightened of the specter of municipal ownership, conjured up by those who have the best of reasons for opposing it, that we can't even investigate a proposition? And that, remember, is all that The Gazette has asked—yet an investigation. If Mr. Thomas' figures are shown to have no basis in fact, The Gazette would be the first to advise against a municipal mine.

But The Gazette does take the position that the people of Colorado Springs ought to be broad-minded enough, regardless of their prejudices against municipal ownership to investigate this plan. The Gazette thinks, indeed, that the city commissioners, the servants of the people of Colorado Springs, owe it to the people, who are paying the present high-cost of coal, to investigate Mr. Thomas' figures, either themselves or through some committee of experienced, capable business men, who hold the confidence of the people.

Can there be the slightest well-founded opposition to such a proposal?

IS THE COLONEL INDEFINITE?

A FAVORITE method, adopted by the standpat press of all parties in their effort to discredit Colonel Roosevelt, is to admit that he deals in splendid generalities, but to assert that he offers no definite plan to bring about the social justice of which he preaches. Here are some of the things for which the colonel stands:

Initiative referendum and recall, under which the people may control their government, including courts.
Workmen's compensation.
Child labor law.
Women's minimum wage law.
Old-age, accident and disability pensions for workmen.
Eight-hour day in all continuous industries.
One day's rest in seven for all labor.
Control of all big business by a national industrial commission.

If those propositions are not definite, will the standpat press indicate what is a definite proposition? And if the enactment of those measures, by national law, will not be at least a step in the direction of social justice, will the standpat press please indicate in what direction social justice lies?

THE ONLY SOLUTION

RESOLUTIONS won't settle Colorado's coal strike. Neither will proclamations of martial law, nor the severest enforcement of the law. To all appearances, unless a new plan is adopted, the present strike will be extended over many months, the public, meantime, footing the bills.

If our governor were a little better endowed with backbone, however, if he were a little less under the control of the powers that rule the Denver Chamber of Commerce, he could, within a very short time bring the strike to an end. There are two things which obviously should be done. In the first place, so long as the operators refuse to meet their men in conference, and so long as the militia is needed in the field, the governor should, under the powers vested in him under martial law, take possession of the mines and operate them in the interest of the public. This will result in cheaper coal, and would surely, furnish sufficient funds to pay the militia without resorting to a state loan.

In the second place, the governor should immediately call the legislature in special session to enact an arbitration law, under which this and all future labor disputes could be mediated, in the interest not only of capital and of labor, but of the great consuming public as well. If the legislature were in session, furthermore, it could probably extricate the state from the embarrassing position into which it has been thrown by Auditor Kennehan's refusal to sign deficiency warrants.

It is probable the mere threat to work the mines by the state would bring about a settlement of the strike. Theodore Roosevelt, with far less power to act than Governor Ammons has in Colorado, settled the great anthracite strike by the threat of confiscating the mines. If Governor Ammons but had the nerve, he could bring peace and cheaper coal within two weeks.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION

A "BUSINESS" that causes the waste annually of billions of dollars, that results in thousands of ruined lives each year, that fills our penitentiaries with criminals and our insane asylums with patients, that brings into existence each year thousands of little lives that, because of drink, are stunted or weakened, cannot long bear the light of civilized day. And the way for its extinction has been pointed out at the national Anti-Saloon league convention—national laws for the control of prohibition of the liquor business.

HOW ABOUT IT?

THE city manager plan is the latest innovation in city government. It aims to place the administrative control of a city's government in the hands of a competent, trained business man, educated along special lines. Would such a man, if he were now at the head of our municipal government, refuse even to investigate a proposition that, if the figures are correct, means a saving to the people of half a million dollars annually in the cost of coal?

THE DEADLY AUTOMOBILE

THERE has been great outcry recently against the number of passengers killed on American railways. The greatest number of passengers killed in any one year was 647, in 1907. Last year fatalities to railway passengers numbered 270. In that same year, however, in only 22 cities of the country, for which figures are available, 691 persons were killed by automobiles. The railway train is safety itself compared with the deadly automobile.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

A PROTEST.
To the Editor of The Gazette:
I am constrained to make some comments regarding the reported address of Dr. Pratt as it appeared in your issue of November 13. I am not concerned as to what religion any individual has. It is sufficient for me that he has some religion, so that it is in no sense in a bigoted manner that I make these comments.

According to the report, the question as to Let's wife being a Jewess trying to break into society, the example of an unconverted wife who would ruin a Christian husband, is not based by Mr. Pratt upon what the Bible reveals, but upon matters which were "not mentioned." At the risk of being irrelevant, I would state that I remember some time ago reading that the fact that telegraph wires were "not mentioned" could be used as a basis for the statement that wireless telegraphy was known in the days of the Egyptians. The mistake of reading into the Scriptures, instead of reading from them, is largely accountable for the want of faith today, especially when those who are looked upon as authorities can use no better argument than that the things they state as facts were not mentioned.

Evangelizing, which is based upon the uses of such phrases as a jubilee in hell. Let's wife trying to break into society—breaking the hind legs of microbes and a hind enough in their way, but when men who should stand up for the dignity of religion descend to making a special address with the following title "The Christian Who Makes God Sick at His Stomach." I think it is time to draw the line.

My early training and the reading of the Scriptures instilled in me the belief that the name of the Deity should be carefully used. It is written, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord, thy God, in vain." One cares little whether those who believe in Jehovah think of him as a great power or as an individual, but in either case it is very unbecoming to speak of the Deity as being "sick at his stomach" at the actions of our poor mortals.

I candidly believe that nothing begets greater unbelief than the undue familiarity with the Deity and his powers evidenced in the addresses of the evangelists of today who seem to pattern those addresses after the stand-patting, blasphemous utterances of men of the standing of Billy Sunday, who are so far from the Apostles and teachings of religion of both the Old and New Testament as to be unworthy of mention.

LIKES THE GAZETTE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
I happened to read your good paper a few days ago by accident. I wish the accident had happened sooner. I have missed much, and I speak advisedly, for I was myself in a branch of the newspaper business for 10 years in New York city. I tell you your paper is one of the strongest in Colorado and indeed in the west. Your editorials are fair, truthful, faithful, elevating, analytical, progressive. William T. Ellis Sunday school lesson work is illuminating, practical, helpful. It is among the best contemporary expositions of Bible literature.

REPUBLICANS "COMING BACK."

From the Boulder Camera.

The standpaters are welcome to all the glory they can get out of reading election returns. The local representative of standpaters says the returns show the Republicans are coming back. "Yep! They come back of the Progressives in Massachusetts several thousand votes and $3,000 back of the Democrats. They're coming back and going back, and getting back. The only clumb of comfort for the Republicans is the fact that Boss Cox of Cincinnati crawled down under the garbage dump where he was hurled by a reform wave. Cox is a typical standpater, just like Murphy of New York. Mr. ex-Murphy at whose dilapidated and tattered form Mr. Bryan is laughing so constantly that he can't get his breath for a speech about the Mexican situation. If the election shows anything besides satisfaction with President Wilson, it is that the Progressives don't propose to be fused into the G. O. P. again. They are the bigger of the two wings of the party and naturally the fusers and not the fuses. They are organizing now for the battle for congress next year and will have nothing to say until Teddy comes marching home.

The Atlantic Ocean

BY GEORGE FITCH

Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

The Atlantic ocean is the second largest collection of wetness on the globe. It is 20,000 miles long, 5,000 miles wide, and so deep in spots that the tallest man who ever lived would have five miles to go before reaching bottom, after getting in over his head.

The Atlantic ocean reaches from the effete ruins of antiquity on the east to the electric lighted prospectus of tomorrow on the west. It is cooled by the mountainous icebergs of the polar regions, and heated at the equator by the everlasting sun, being thus plentifully supplied with hot and cold water.

"It brings the sea serpent to Atlantic City."

Just off Greenland and at Narragansett the millionaires dive gleefully into its rolling billows in front of a thousand cameras. It brings the sea serpent to Atlantic City. The movie white yacht of the captain of industry, and the dugout of the cannibal are both at home in its waters. It washes four continents and a hundred nations, according to our veracious geographers, thus being by far the largest laundry plant in the world.

The Atlantic is calm and handsome in fair weather and can be navigated with impunity by man. But it is not civilized and never will be. Twice 10,000 ships wear furrows through it year by year, and it has had advantages far beyond the ordinary, carrying the beauty and civility of all nations on its back for weeks at a time. But for all that the Atlantic has no manners. Many a time it has nonchalantly tossed a king into the corner of a state-room and has caused the queens of mighty nations to wish they were dead. Men have struggled with it for centuries and have built ships so large that the English language has had to be enlarged to describe them. But none of them has been too large for the Atlantic to swallow at one gulp.

The Atlantic is not too wide to keep the working poor of Europe from America or the idle rich of America from Europe. But it has thus far succeeded in quarantining America effectively against the nobility system, Monte Carlo, the overgrown standing army, dog meat sandwiches, the average de conference and the French duel. We should love it deeply for these services.

Some Other Kind of Trouble

BY RUTH CAMERON

A great trouble has come into the life of a friend of mine. Her husband, a man in the early prime of life, has had a stroke of paralysis and lies dumb and helpless on his bed.

My friend has never had any serious trouble before and she takes it very hard. When anyone tries to comfort her she says, bitterly, "It's such a horrible thing to have happen. I know everyone must have some trouble in their lives, but it seems as if I could have borne some other kind of trouble better than this."

Some other kind of trouble is always easier to bear than the particular brand that falls to our lot.

Another kind of pain is less painful than the affliction with which we are suffering.

Of course we are sorry for our neighbor when he meets with a bereavement but we are sure that no sorrow can possibly be as painful as our own.

A certain woman lost a splendid son in the full prime of young manhood. It was a terrible blow to her and seemed to change her whole outlook on life. When she hears of a mother who has lost a baby or a young child she says, "Yes, that must be hard, but it can't be like losing a run-grown son. When I lost John it wasn't only the loss of my child I had to bear but the loss of my friend and the prop I hoped to lean on in my old age."

ODDS AND ENDS

Only a few more days now until Wilson defines his policy towards Mexico. We are waiting as long for that as for the defining of Ammons' policy towards the coal strike.

Ready Kennehan is evidently a believer in the good old axiom that he who fights and runs away, will live to fight another day. At least, he's great on the running away end of it.

The demand for national prohibition is now fully launched. It will come, too, as will national laws for social justice and the protection of the national health. The people of the United States are just beginning to find themselves as a nation.

The municipal expert is another coming institution. Already several cities have city managers. More will be the first Colorado city to adopt the new plan.

Secretary Wilson of the department of labor threatens to turn the searchlight on the Michigan copper magnates, giving to the world full publicity of all their doings, including their enormous earnings. Secretary Wilson, while he's about it, might turn his attention to the southern Colorado coal fields.

Arguments against the municipal coal mine seem based on the assumption that The Gazette has declared in favor of that policy. All The Gazette has asked is an investigation. Can any fair-minded man object to that?

But why don't the operators, or their newspaper defenders, refute the figures given by Thomas E. Thomas, instead of fighting the abstract proposition of municipal ownership?

It's true, too, that the people of Colorado Springs want taxes reduced. The only way they will ever get this is by going into municipal ownership. If the city could save anything like the amount Mr. Thomas thinks through a municipal coal mine, wouldn't that be reducing taxes?

Then there are light and gas and traction, for all of which Colorado Springs, compared with municipal ownership cities, is paying too much. Why not investigate all these propositions?

The president of the National Grange thinks the money spent on the Panama canal should have been spent in building roads. Now that the canal is completed, the government feels no bigger job than this of improving the roads. It ought to get busy.

The city commissioners did the right thing when they passed the playgrounds commission ordinance. The city owes this to the children.

The British South American and the Argentine beef trusts are now at work conferring the meat trade of South America. And thus both free trade and meat put the kibosh on old Hi (Coca Living in the U. S.—Ault Advertiser).

Again may we be permitted to remark that control of the trusts by the government is the only solution? See Progressive platform, 1912.

There is nothing slow about that man Ammons, who happens to be governor of Colorado during a very trying period in the state's history.—Boulder Camera.

The strike is nearing the end of its second month with no appreciable progress towards a settlement. Wherein is Ammons' speed?

Senator Cummins of Iowa went into Massachusetts and New Jersey to work against the Progressives. Now he is becoming very peeved at the evident intention of the Progressives to nominate a full ticket in Iowa in the next state campaign, including a Progressive candidate for United States senator against Cummins.

The impertinent inquisitiveness of the people of the state of Colorado as to the whores of the skyrocketing of the price of coal is getting on the nerves of the mine owners.—Ault Advertiser.

But not to the extent of moving them to any reduction in prices.

Vice President A. D. Parker, of the Colorado Southern road, talked to a church audience at Fort Collins last night on the text "Opportunity." Yes, sir, Mr. Parker, Opportunity knocks at once at the door of men young or old. It's knocking right now at your door. Advise your subordinates to set a good example by hauling coal at the rate fixed by the state railroad commission, and it may knock again. What a wanted is dead, not words.—Boulder Camera.

If one may judge from the expressions of the Democratic press of the state, Ready Kennehan didn't do his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor any good when he ran from the state refusing to sign warrants for the payment of the militia. But Roads has always shown a fine scorn for the opinions of the guiding divinity of his party.

The Fort Collins Courier thinks every high school and college of the state should follow the example of Colorado college in establishing a course in pioneer history of Colorado.

Colorado Progressives Set New Standard for Conference

St. Louis Progressive Paper Publishes Article Strongly Commending Policy Pursued by Colorado Bull Moose.

From St. Louis Progressive Exponent.
As the Progressive platform reveals a party with a new viewpoint, and the Progressive service and Progressive clubs, a party with a new organization method, so our statewide conference are valuing to be the herald of a new form of political convention. The old-time political gathering was a case of struggle for control, building or destroying the machine, grasping for personal advantage, disparaging of office and candidates, development of tricks to gain elections, squabbling about the distribution of patronage, and acclamatory rhetoric about "the inseparable part of our grand old party." It was for the Colorado Progressive conference, which will convene at 10 a. m. on Nov. 22, in Denver, to give a shining example of the new type of political conference. In its sessions appeared none of those distinguishing marks of the old party convention.

These are some of the unique features of the new form of political conference, as it is in Colorado.
1. Six sessions, covering two days, each a 12-hour growing in interest and attendance, with a total of 120 speakers, at 10 a. m. on Nov. 22, and 40 speakers from over the state, speaking three minutes apiece, and greeted down mercifully by an official timekeeper.

2. A different speaker for every session, including a lay with a chairwoman, and many golden speakers in different sessions.
3. No great national orators to stand keynote, the speaking being done by Colorado talent, with Miss Keller and a national orator present to advise on practical questions of organization and financing.

4. The platform made up of the living, burning issues of Colorado, discussed by her own state experts and leaders, to interpret and develop public opinion, and to secure material for next year's state platform. This was further established by ringing resolutions, considered by committees and adopted by convention.

5. Upon recommendation of a finance committee of careful business men, with detail of expenditures shown, the adoption of a state budget of $10,000 ($1,000 a month for 10 months) to put two organizers into the field, a man and a woman, whose duty it shall be at once (1) to organize counties and precincts, each with a precinct committeeman and a committeewoman; (2) to develop regular supply of headquarters by a precinct assessment; (3) to organize Progressive clubs with educational as well as campaign purposes; (4) to open and equip headquarters, and to develop the speakers, publicity and legislative reference bureau of the Colorado Progressive service board.

6. The repeated insistence that the primary purpose of a political party is not to win office and distribute patronage, but to study scientifically national issues, to develop principles in line with those needs, and to feel acquainted at the remarkable success which has already crowned the Progressive party as the one now vitally dictating the principles of party action in America.

The Colorado conference was a new era, and a long advance step in the history of the Progressive movement. It was as clear as a day that the Progressive party was no longer a mere political party, but a party of action, present and future. The Progressive party was no longer a mere political party, but a party of action, present and future. The Progressive party was no longer a mere political party, but a party of action, present and future.

The Progressive party has given not only a new political platform and a new organization method, but Colorado has set the standard of the new political conference.

MAKE THEIR LIVING FROM RAIN
Umbrella Peddlers Swarm New York on Cloudy Days
From the New York Times.
Just as soon as the skies become overcast and the first few drops of rain weight down the dust in the streets there seem to crop from nowhere the men and boys who offer you an umbrella for 50 cents. They stand in front of the subway kiosks and press an umbrella into your hand as you issue forth. They stand in the streets where the crowds are thickest.

Not with one umbrella or with two. But with leather bags filled with umbrellas whose handles are of every description. And as the rain stops and the sun pushes its way through the clouds the men and the umbrellas vanish.

Peddling umbrellas is unquestionably a particularly reasonable occupation. That is why most of the peddlers make it an avocation rather than a vocation. "And if you wonder how it is that men who sometimes look as if they couldn't buy a sandwich are so well stocked with umbrellas you'll find the answer at 55 Forsyth street."

For M. Trachtenberg manufactures there almost all the umbrellas that are peddled about New York. As soon as the rain begins to fall, as a general rule, the peddlers are sent out by him and make commissions on what they sell. There always are great numbers of men who have nothing to do, and have no objection to doing something if it isn't too difficult, and Trachtenberg knows just where to reach them when the need arises.

Sales cars, of course. As Trachtenberg said, it's pretty hard to say what sort of luck a man's going to have. "Sometimes," he said, "a peddler will make $2 or $3 a day. Sometimes he won't make anything. You never can tell."

You bet you can't tell. Interfered Joseph Kahan, who was looking over a stock of umbrellas preparatory to selecting a few for what was called being a rainy morning. I stood at Park Row for a whole day and only sold two umbrellas. And one morning, very early, when it started to rain without their having been a sign of it, I sold six umbrellas to people who were going to work and had left home thinking it was a good idea to be a rainy day.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

MCKINNEY MAIN SHAFT
GOING DOWN RAPIDLY

CRIPPLE CREEK, Nov. 13.—The main shaft of the Mary McKinney Mining company, where sinking was resumed on October 15, has since that date sunk 80 feet, and is now at the point where the water level was reported when the work started. The bottom of the shaft is dry, and at the rate the water is lowering, it is now practically assured that the 100-foot lift will be attained without hindrance from water, and that the 1,000-foot level in this Raven Hill mine will be carried out to the different ore bodies by the end of the year.

The sinking of the shaft is causing no curtailment in production and the November output from the company workings will be normal. Lessee on the Gold Hill holdings of the company are making occasional shipments of milling grade ore, and at the same time are exhaustively prospecting the leased territory.

LITTLE CLARA LESSEES
OPEN UP GOOD VEIN

CRIPPLE CREEK, Nov. 13.—H. L. Houghton and associates, operating the Little Clara mine on Gold Hill, through the Moffat or Ophelia tunnel, has opened a new vertical vein for that property and has loaded out a 20-ton car by team. The shipment made up of coarse quartz and scoriaceous will, it is estimated, bring a settlement at the rate of close to two ounces gold to the ton. The lessees in operating this property have been handicapped by the mine gases prevalent when the wind blows from the southwest and recently it has been found impossible to work out a full shift more than two days in the week.

BACK OF LEASING
COMPANY SHIPPING

CRIPPLE CREEK, Nov. 13.—Shipments were loaded out yesterday from shafts of the Moffat-Bonanza Gold Mining and Milling company, the Moffat and Bonanza King mines, under leases to the Back of Leasing and Milling company, subsidiaries of this corporation and prosecuting exploitation work on an elaborate scale, and as a result, new ore bodies are under development and the production from the Gold Hill properties will be materially increased. The two cars of ore shipped yesterday were of a good milling grade, the estimated value being close to $300 to the ton.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The upward movement in stocks was halted today. The market was under pressure and the range of prices was materially lower until an upturn shortly before the close, virtually cancelled the day's losses.

The varying aspects of the Mexican situation were reflected in the market's movements. Shortly before the end of the day's trading came reports from Washington of decidedly favorable developments, which caused the market to rally strongly.

Several new low records were made on the early break. New Haven fell 2 points, to 74, and Mexican Petroleum receded a similar amount, to 41 1/2. In both cases the lowest prices at which these stocks have ever sold.

On the final upturn, Mexican Petroleum was buoyant, jumping 4 points from the day's bottom price.

Sharp declines in a number of high-grade stocks and bonds indicated that liquidation was still prominent, although selling of this nature was on a smaller scale than a few days ago. Further failure of H. B. Hollins & Co., was without effect on the stock market.

The bond market was heavy. There were increasing sales of illiquid issues. Total sales, par value, $2,070,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.
